

Sceptre Crystals

A sceptre Quartz is a large central rod around one end of which another crystal formed.

Sceptre Quartz is a very special stone. Used as a meditation tool, it links into the wisdom of the ages & facilitates channeling high vibrations. Generating & amplifying energy, sceptre Quartz is an excellent healing tool, as it directs healing to the core of a problem either physically, mentally, emotionally or spiritually.

Sceptre Quartz are nature's directional pointers. They are one of the most powerful seekers - crystals that point us to the thing we do not have, yet desire.

Legend has it that these stones were used as a symbol of spiritual authority in Atlantis<sup>1</sup> & Lemuria<sup>2</sup> & that they have re-emerged to bring crystal power to the present day. A natural lingam, they can be used for fertility problems & to balance male & female energies.
